

WE NOMINATE

John Laurence Dilworth, a lifelong Princetonian and a Federal careerist, who this week — as nearly 450,000 Albert Einstein "First-Day Covers" were dispatched to all points of the compass and Palmer Square for 12 hours strongly resembled a European "street gala" — was deservedly elevated to the position of "Postmaster, Princeton, New Jersey." After some 25 months of service as Acting Postmaster, and in his 23rd year of post office duty, the 51-year old Dilworth was confirmed by the U. S. Senate last Thursday and made his first platform appearance in his new role at the First Day of Issue Ceremonies in Alexander Hall.

The nephew of a former Princeton Postmaster, the late Stephen W. Margerum, and a member of a family tracing its Princeton roots back to the 1830's, Dilworth has been named to a post which can be classified as "big business" and is today far removed from the shop-worn conception of a part-time portfolio linked to political patronage. Based in two obsolete and desperately crowded locations, the main Palmer Square office and the Annex at the foot of University Place, the local office serves a nine-square-mile area and more than 32,000 patrons, including a number of New Jersey's largest mailers.

In an era of staggering Post Office Department deficits, Dilworth's bailiwick generates over $2 million of business annually and is one of the handful of offices in the country operating in the black, a phenomenon partly attributable to the fact that Princeton averages three first-class letters per person per day in comparison with the national average of one letter per individual per day. Of comparable significance are the 42 largest institutional and industrial "customers" who produce about 80% of the mail and work closely with this post office as members of the volunteer and singularly effective Nationwide Improved Mail Service Council.

It was in 1943 that Dilworth, then in the heavy construction field, accepted a temporary post office job "to help with the Christmas rush." He thoroughly enjoyed the exposures of a new area and opted to "remain on." Up through the years, in a variety of assignments, he gained the experience which led to his designation in January, 1964, as Acting Director of a complex operation that maintains 36 postal routes and requires the services of 135 employees. And a key factor in his recent promotion was the unanimous endorsement he received from the entire post office staff!

Dilworth, the father of two sons (one an IBM engineer and the younger a "programmer" with Educational Testing Service) and the grandfather of five, brings to his office a wide-ranging knowledge of his community. As a "cradle-roll member" of the Methodist Church, a graduate of Princeton High School, a former Scout master (Troop 43) and a member of several service organizations, he is keenly aware of, and appreciates, Princeton Past. Yet in his day-to-day associations he has come to see how Princeton, and particularly how he and his cohorts, must pinpoint and wrestle with problems not even broadly defined 15 short years ago.

For his forthrightness in seeking a public post on the basis of individual merit and without regard for politics; for approaching his new responsibilities with a zest boding well for the future; for believing that the public servant exists only to serve; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee as

THE OPEN ROAD
1-95. Let's face it: there IS going to be an I-95, so let's get together and present the highway people with a unified front!

James C. Sayen, of the Delaware-Barlton Citizens Committee for I-95, made this point repeatedly Monday night as the committee explained the "McHarg line" to about 125 people who sat and stood in the all-purpose room of Community Park School.

But Hopewell dissents. "We're supporting the return of I-95 to the Route One area in West Windsor, where it is used to be," declared Theodore A. Pierson, mayor of Hopewell Township. "You can't argue against motherhood and all that, but this McHarg proposal... let's examine its details more carefully."

There was applause and the next questioner asked, "Wouldn't this McHarg line just cut the Borough of Hopewell in half?"

"There is room for the highway on the side of the mountain without touching Hopewell," replied Paul Van Wagon of the Stoney Brook Millstone Watersheds Association, "but it is indeed the point of narrowest choice. And it does NOT hit the Hopewell well-field."

Enter Mr. McHarg. Ian McHarg, Philadelphia planner, blocked out a unique ecological approach to highway selection especially for the D-R Citizens group, and presented it last January for the first time.

Since then, the McHarg route has been endorsed by an unprecedented bi-partisan letter to Governor Richard Hughes from both New Jersey Senators and the two Congressmen from the area and has had the endorsement of Princeton Township (Committee and Planning Board), Princeton Borough (Mayor, Council and Planning Board) and the Borough of Pennington.

Mr. McHarg offers to alternate routes from Scudders Falls: one south of Pennington Mountain, the other

"This one's called 'Proposed Routes for I-95'"

paralleling Jacob's Creek north of the mountain.

Then the routes merge and the corridor goes along the base of Sourland Mountain paralleling the Reading Railroad, fanning out like a trumpet to allow a broad choice of route between South Bound Brook on the south or Interstate 287 near Pluckemin on the north.

Waiter 1-95? "Why was I-95 ever moved away from this Pennsylvania Railroad Route? One argument?" asked one questioner. "It's still there, on some road maps."

"That's a dirty question," Mr. Sayen smiled.

"People sometimes say Princeton University was responsible," said John H. McPherson of the D-R Citizens Committee, "but I don't think myself the University is that powerful. You also hear that the Turnpike Authority didn't want it so close to the Turnpike, but in any case it was not decided at any kind of open meeting."

Another questioner wondered why, with his concept of laying a highway in the area of "least social cost," Mr. McHarg hadn't recommended the Route One-PRR corridor.

"He was hired to work from the state's 'cost estimate' route," Mr. Sayen replied. "Actually he thinks the Route One-PRR area would be fine as a transposition corridor."

When someone else in the audience urged the pressure for the Route One corridor, saying, "Maybe we can keep I-95 out for 15 or 20 years," (to oppose), Mr. Sayen repeated a statement he made frequently throughout the evening.

After I-95 "I-95 IS GOING to be built. Already the state planners talk to us about I-95 and I-97. If they build I-95 along Route One, they'll zero in on us for I-96 or I-97 and we'll just have to go through this whole thing all over again. Nobody WANTS this highway. But if we can persuade these guys to build it along the McHarg corridor, they can't very well come back and build another, superhighway right next door."

"Hopewell won't join you!" one member of the audience said. "We'll only fight you, if you put it through our Township!"

Mr. Sayen did not comment, but another member of the audience added that Montgomery Township, generally, is in favor of I-95.

1-95 Now? "How does the state feel about McHarg and where are we now?" was another question.

"Our committee has a close relationship with both Palmer and Schuyler, the state highway commissioner and the chief engineer," Mr. Sayen replied. "As of this moment, the state is not impressed. But the Federal people and Mr. Lyndon Johnson are extremely impressed."

"This is the first time," Mr. Sayen continued, "when a grass-roots group has come up with something new—this McHarg proposal isn't just nice old ladies in meekers. It's a genuinely new way of approaching highway alignments. Foundations are even interested, and if we win with McHarg, maybe some foundation will support future highway studies like this one."

"The important thing is," he emphasized, "the consultants' plans are NOT necessarily the ones that will win. We need to educate our friends in the State House. I urge you all to write letters to the governor: he needs guidance! Otherwise Mr. Palmer and his bulldozers will put the route where they want it."

"Another thing — if they build I-95 north of New Brunswick to link that 12-lane turnpike around Woodbridge, it will be the most God-awful mess you ever saw—dangerous."

and horrible. That's another reason for supporting the McHard proposal.
As the meeting drew to a close, Mr. Vyn Wegen reminded his audience of New Jersey's ominous future at a corridor state between Philadelphia and New York, burdened with possibly 30 to 40 major highways.
"It would kill us as a state," he said. "At what point are we going to insist on 'No more' and insist that mass transportation take over?"

With Laboratory. The building at Princeton Hospital will be named the John F. Sly Laboratory in memory of the scholar who taught political science at Princeton University for 26 years. He died April 27, 1965, at the age of 72.

The hospital revealed this week that the unknown foundation that supplied the $250,000 "challenge" gift to build and construction of the "J" Building is the Fannie E. Rippey Foundation of Newark.

Dr. Sly was a vice-president and trustee of the Foundation.
The emergency fund drive for $615,793 went over the top by $20,000 and contracts were signed on Wednesday for construction of the $27 million "J" Building.

The John F. Sly Laboratory will cost about $416,000, according to George W. Conover.

NEW PLAN PROPOSED

For Uniting Schools. A preliminary plan for uniting Borough and Township school systems was approved on Monday by the Borough Board of Education. It was presented to the Township board on Tuesday evening at an executive session at Princeton High School. The meeting, headed by Mrs. Paul J. Trayer, Borough board president, and George Grace, Township board president, was the first since the total merger referendum failed last October.

The plan is one of four recommendations by the Citizens Advisory Committee accepted unanimously by the Borough board members at their Monday's special meeting. Dr. E. Frederick Latschewer was absent at the time the vote was taken.

"The Princeton Borough School District cannot continue indefinitely as a receiving district only," the CAC report stated. "To assure itself an adequate legal position and to support a quality high school at reasonable cost, it must join with one or more school districts or districts on a permanent legal basis."

The committee recommended that the Board "should do all in its power to assure a continuing and equitable relationship between the Borough and Township in public education." It recommended joint study of a "modified kindergarten-2nd grade system organization with Princeton Township" and in the event that a continuing relationship between the two Princeton should be impossible to arrange, "we recommend that the Borough Board immediately initiate negotiations with the school boards of neighboring communities."

Miller Plan. The Borough's plan was suggested some months ago by William Miller, board attorney. After various proposals were studied by the CAC in conjunction with the school board, the Miller proposal emerged as the most likely to be adopted by both sides of the Borough-Township line.

SURVIVORS RELAX: Leaders in the Princeton United Fund Community Survey discuss their work at the annual meeting of the United Fund. Findings and recommendations reported last week, covered public and private agencies serving the United Fund area in health, education and recreation. Left to right, J. Philip Mills, chairman of the Citizens Survey Committee; Mrs. Harold Sprunt, director of the Survey; Raymond A. Bowers, president of the Council of Community Service, and Mrs. Bowers.

The Miller Plan, in essence, is this: Jack and Jill live on opposite sides of Wilson Road, where Borough and Township lines meet. Jack goes to grade school in the Township. Jill attends the Borough's John Witherspoon Elementary School. Their school curriculum in elementary school and later when they attended Princeton High School together, is under direction of a joint Borough-Township board of education.

There is one superintendent of schools and one staff for the entire system. Elections to the nine-member joint board and budget votes are held simultaneously in the two districts.

However, the teachers in Jack's school are appointed by Township members of the joint board. These members also approve the elementary school budget and pupil allocations for the Township. In the Borough, Jill's teachers are appointed by the Borough members of the joint board, who also approve the Borough elementary budget and pupil allocation.

In the pros and cons discussed in the CAC report, the cost of the Miller Plan would be the same as the quarter for a regional high school, less expenditures for a district bus supervisory personnel. New legislation and a public vote would be required to implement the plan.

SOS Approval. Serve Our Schools, the committee that has steadily opposed merger with the Township school system, has given its endorsement to the Miller Plan "... with a regionalized high school, with the Borough retaining full control of its elementary system, we have the beginnings of an eminently fair proposal."

Noting that the board has endorsed the Miller Plan in embryo, SOS added, "While details must yet be worked out in legal terms, we can look forward to negotiations from an equal starting point."

The CAC report contains three full subcommittee reports, followed in some instances by minority statements. Copies are available at Nassau Street School, Witherspoon School, Princeton High School and at the Public Library. A full public hearing on the report will be held at 8 p.m. this Monday at the Nassau Street School under the auspices of the Borough Elementary PTA.

From the moment of their announcement, the proposed pool fees had been the subject of controversy. It came to a head last Tuesday evening at the monthly meeting of the Joint Recreation Board. Some 60 vocal citizens were present to challenge R. Donald Barr, Recreation Director, and members of the Recreation Board. The central target of the daily fee. Many felt it was excessively high that it would drive away those who needed the most—the children, particularly those from low income areas.

"Our Main Worry," The Rev. Walter Wagner, a Hant-r Road, spoke for this group when he said, "Our main worry here is the kids, the ones who get five or ten cents for an allowance. Can't they get in without a scholarship or some kind of a hand-out? I'd be willing to pay a great deal more than $40 so that the children who can't afford the daily fee can get in."

"Why," asked one spectator, "if it was mentioned that the entrance fee to the Paradise Pool on U.S. 1 was 75 cents, do we have to be so much higher than those who are running a pool for a profit?" Another remarked that the whole issue boiled down to one of philosophy: that those who had opted for 20 years for a pool envisioned it as a pool that would not exclude any body.

Not all were opposed. Albert J. Cervera of the Township rose to say, "I feel the $40 fee is just. It's impossible to get a free pool. I'd rather pay a fee than pay taxes."

A former member of the board, Mrs. Muriel Vonaska, commented that "we never talked about it as a free pool. The people I've talked to aren't looking for a free pool. I don't know of any pools that are free. How much longer can we go on living in this dream world? I couldn't be more in favor of having this as a paying proposition."

A Taxpayer Speaks "I'm not representing anyone. I'm speaking as a taxpayer," began T.B. Fisher, 542 Snowden Lane, principle of users paying for what they use. I urge you not to lose sight of the objective of keeping the pool self-supporting."

Why such high fees, in the first place? They were neces-

Mr. Barr explained, to pay for the municipal operations and maintenance costs, estimated at $40,000. It was projected that $20,000 would be provided by the purchasers of season tickets and the remainder from daily fees.

Said Mr. Barr: "Our philosophy was that the taxpayer pay for the construction of the pool ($400,000) but that he not be charged with the operating costs. The pool and tennis courts are just a part of the overall recreation program planned for Princeton. The feeling was if the fees were not maintained, it would be difficult to obtain the additional facilities Princeton needs."

20 Cents a Day. "The board feels the fees are still a real bargain. They are $10 under the average family membership," Mr. Barr added that if the season fees were pro-rated they would break down to 55 cents a day for a family, 35 cents a day for a husband and wife, and 20 cents a day for an individual.

"The daily fees were set high," Mr. Barr continued, "to discourage such fees." A majority of communities do not even allow people to use a pool except those with season passes. They were designed more as "guest fees" and we do not feel they are out of line."

JACKSON?

Wait till Fall. Negotiations are moving along with property owners involved in the re-alignment of Jackson Street and the new new may be ready by September 1.

Mayor Henry S. Patterson said at his press conference this week that he was confident the Borough can come to an agreement on price with Mrs. Arthur H. Mitchell, 69 Chambers Street, whose house is part of the re-alignment complex.

Negotiations are also proceeding smoothly with the First Baptist Church, Mayor Patterson said, adding that the church hopes the entire re-alignment can be done all at once and not piecemeal. "We agree," the mayor said.

THE SKIN OF OUR TEETH: Thornton Wilder's comedy about survival will be given by students at Princeton High School Friday and Saturday, March 25 and 26, at 8 p.m. Left to right: Jerry Sierle, Dave Shkibian, Marilyn James, well and Nina Morris in an early rehearsal photograph. Miss Maxwell, cast as "Sabina," broke her leg during the high school ski trip and has been replaced by Linda Morgan.

News Of The THEATRES

TWO FOR ONE
 New Show at McCarter. For its third spring offering, McCarter's repertory company leaves the fairy-fairy land of Shakespeare and the brittle drawing-rooms of Oscar Wilde and turns to the realism of August Strindberg's "Miss Julie."

An early pioneer of the kitchen sink school (literally, in this production), "Miss Julie" describes a brief love affair in what must have been shocking terms for the era in which it was written.

Miss Julie is the beautiful strong-headed, wrong-headed daughter of a landed aristocrat; she attends the Midsummer's Eve dance in the servants' quarters of the family castle and entices her father's lackey, a young man scrambling toward a place in the sun. He seduces her and her reaction to her "downfall" brings the play to a tragic conclusion.

"Downfall" in this case is not merely the Edwardian definition of a seduced maiden. Miss Julie is horrified at her act because she has committed it with a man who is her father's servant, far lower on the social scale than she, and this revelation at her "fall" is almost stronger than her remorse over lost virtue.

In a way, it's "boom at the Top." In spite of the amusement a modern audience may feel now and again, girls just don't react this way toward sex anymore — the play has muscle and mind.

Young men on the bottom rungs are still eager to climb, still full of self-contempt for the servility they feel toward their boss, still willing enough to follow the lead of the boss' enormous daughter.

Anne Murray is a superb

Miss Julie, full of tensions and repressions she cannot understand or control. A highly skilled actress, Miss Murray knows the value of the small gesture, the barely visible trembling of a hand or lip, the slight turn of a shoulder.

Tony Munsie makes his first appearance with the company as Jean, the servant and it's an impressive debut. A sensitive, cold-headed young man who savors the ripeness of the Burgundy he has stolen from his master's cellar and enjoys the brief rumble he has with Miss Julie (although he is rather disappointed that it was all so easy). Jean is nonetheless a man for whom one can feel some warmth and sympathy, and Mr. Munsie allows us to see that the valet is not too bad a fellow, after all.

The third member of the cast, Eve Shannon, is the cook who is engaged to Jean. It is a strong cast, balanced and skillful and it has been directed to a fine edge by Donald Moffat. Barbara M. Moxer provides a splendidly realistic set. It's the kitchen of a country manor, with a magnificent vintage stove, a sink with a pump, a real butcher's chopping block — which gets some gruesome use as the action moves toward the conclusion — and such attention to realistic detail you can almost smell the lilies.

Strindberg was wise enough to make his point succinctly in one act and then stop. McCarter has therefore decided that "Miss Julie" needs a curtain-raiser.

This prologue is "Box and Cox," that reeking old farce about the avareous landlady who rents the same room to a printer who works at night and a hatter who works by day.

Arthur Lithgow, handed this one to direct, does the only possible thing and plays it broadly with the most stylized gestures and ferocious costumes. Mario Siletti, Clarence

VISIT THE ORIENT
 Via Route 69, North to the Orient—that's the route you take from Princeton, via a half way 69, to reach The Little Oriental Shop, 139 Main Street, Flemington.

Start late, because the shop doesn't open until 11. Stay late to browse, because it doesn't close until 5, and it's open every day—Sundays included. Tuesdays excluded: its closed then.

Variety is the keynote of this browsable shop. Here's a pair of Siamese friendship rings, here's a floor lamp. There's a man's raw silk kimono, there's a box of Chinese fortune cookies.

In the jewelry case, you'll find a handsome collection of clear rock-crystal jewelry with minute saupen, a Buddha or a temple earring in the crystal. Drop earrings, a dinner ring, even a men's ring are included in the collection. Prices hover around $3.95.

A came-like pin, hand-painted porcelain, has a classic Japanese face. A charm for your bracelet has a curving green dragon against the white porcelain.

For keeping your jewels, the Little Orient has a group of enchanting jewel chests. They are black or deep mahogany in finish, but soft and matte, not highly lacquered like most you've seen.

Hinges' fittings and tiny drawer pulls are of rich wrought brass. They'll tell you that those little drawers were designed originally to hold opium, but we suggest the rock crystal earrings instead.

On the tea-and-crumpets shelf, there's a classic white teapot (and all the rest of that classic white wear, by the way, plates, serving dishes, etc.) and the deep, agate earthen grey-brown pots overlaid with deep royal blue designs and served with squat cups that have no handle.

The tea is Jasmine or Green, in bags or loose. Fortune cookies? Bean threads? Lychee nuts? Baked bean curd? Is a can? Buy, at the same time, one of Little Orient's many cookbooks, just to be sure.

The floor lamp has a black wooden frame and a long oblong box encasing the light. The box has fiberglass sides that look like rice paper and interesting fingers of black wood to give shadow as well as substance.

A little table lamp might be natural toothpick bamboo fashioned into a plump oval cage for the fiberglass light cylinder. That's for model's. For the traditionalists, Little Orient has those charming chime-ginger-jars made into boudoir lamps. One has dull gold flowers against a silver base, another has those Chinese banna shade with gold. You may buy

Flower Arranging
 The arrangement of flowers according to the Sogetsu school will be taught in Flemington starting March 29 by Mrs. Marjorie Condon, one of the area's most skillful and widely-known experts in Japanese flower arrangement.

Women who are interested should call the Little Oriental Shop, Flemington, at 201-782-7774 between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m. including Sunday. The shop is closed Tuesdays.

The day and hour of the class will be set according to the convenience of the majority of women who call, to make that telephone call today and tell the shop which day and time are most convenient for you.

the jars separately.

Party fun is over in that back corner: 39 cent bamboo rulers; three paper blowfish for a quarter; a wild octopus for 30 cents and a really truly Samurai sword for $1.99. We're taking home that softly gold kimono with Peter Panter's "Oriental Cockney" luck on the sleeve.

"WHY PAY MORE?"

Sample Shop Asks. If you drive to Flemington, Route 69, turn left at the Hunterdon movie theatre and drive past the A & P along Church Street to Number 27 and the Flemington Sample Shop.

A "sample" is the design from which the manufacturer will cut his line. Or, it's an import he has decided against manufacturing because it would be too expensive. Or it's an odd size. In any case, it's clearly one-of-a-kind, and the sample outlet we're talking about is the one-of-a-kind Flemington Sample Shop.

Take the Italian knit, in a size 20-30 hard for Punjabi women to find. This one is white with bright pink edging on the classic jacket, a pink-striped shell and a white skirt for $92. The size 18 is a dress dress jacket, ensemble in warm gold "tweed" knit with golden bronze piping—marvellous on mature figure. Your size 12 companion, meanwhile, is trying on a new Grace Gross' lime-white tweedy looking spring dress with the bright lime band down the offside closing and around the short sleeve and collar. A dress which might retail for $70, it's $48 at this shop.

Nantucket's café au lait dress with its demurely painted collar, short sleeves and slightly gathered waistline is $24.95 here, and $30 in all the ads. How good is your arithmetic?

Emmanuel Khan of Paris designed this one: it's a creamy Fatterval wool, two-piece, with simple skirt and an overblouse pulled in at the waist by a drawstring. A tailored two-button closing comes down on the tailored collar: $139.30.

Vintage Years

No. 9 In A Series

Domestic wines do vary in quality from year to year although not nearly as much as the wines from abroad. Climate and growing conditions, particularly in California, are much more predictable. Seldom do they experience the type of disaster as, for example, too much rainfall at harvest time which can afflict the vineyards of France and Germany and cause an entire year to be virtually worthless.

Thus in buying from these two countries, the year on the label is a valuable guide to quality. It is not an infallible guide, however. Even so-called off-years produce some excellent wines, although in limited quantities only. And a great Chateau such as a Lafite, a Margaux or a Latour will put its label on a bottle only if the wine meets its high standards. So while a 1959 of those vintages is superb, a 1958, which was not generally a good year, is better than many lesser '59's.

Also, wines change, and some of early promise which are highly touted begin to fade in time. This was true of the 1960 crop in Bordeaux. The reverse is true, also. The 1955 Bordeaux vintage was not rated too high in the beginning. Yet, these have come along so well, that prices are in some cases higher now than the '59's and 61's.

A vintage chart is the handiest for quick reference and we produce one here which you may want to clip and paste on your wine cupboard door.

We have not included 1964, which is rated as very promising in most districts, because only the early maturing Beaujolais and lesser whites are available now. These are excellent wines and great values. But it will be some time before the greater wines from 1964 can be judged with complete accuracy.

THE SPY WHO CAME IN FROM THE COLD: The movie version of John le Carré's downbeat spy thriller, starring Richard Burton as the agent who believes in nothing, and Claire Bloom as the abducted librarian, opens this week at the Lawrence Drive-in and the Playhouse.

lut to the screen Donald Hamilton's fictional hero, Matt Helm, whose adventures have filled eight best-sellers. The pace is fast and the cast is excellent, including such beauties as Stella Stevens, Dalila Lavi, dancer Cyd Charisse and Beverly Adams. There's a brisk musical with Dean Martin doing the singing.

PLAYHOUSE AND DRIVE-IN

The Spy Who Came in from the Cold (now playing): This cold war espionage thriller comes from the LeCarre novel that has sold over five million copies. It's a rough, tough story of behind-the-scenes maneuvering between agents of Britain and the Iron Curtain countries.

Richard Burton is Leamas, the cynical, has-been agent who allows himself to be used as a pawn. Orson Welles gives sturdy opposition as Fieldier.

Sony Peretti's two-piece for cool spring afternoons is black with regular white flecks. The fabric is rather like a finely quilted pique and the styling is youthful and classic: box-pleated skirt, great big neckline bow below a pointed collar and sharp white in a narrow line at the edge of collar and short sleeves. Size 14.

Half-sizes who think they must look like Mother Hubbard must see the powder blue Arnel with its sleeveless top and gently scooped neck, the little flat bows at each side and the carelessly tossed white flowers arranged against the blue. In 14½, for $11.

Sample shop has one-of-a-kind jewelry too. Handmade and inexpensive for the most part, it might be the five strands of gold wire twisted into a ring with a pearl caught in the strands, the elaborate two-inch wide Baroque bracelet encrusted with stones or the exquisite quarter-inch gold mesh bracelet with minute pearls set in minute crowns ($3.50).

Or the magnificent bib necklace of dangling gold chains, Florentine braided gold balls and jade clusters: $26.95.

Your Easter bag might be the warm red calf, ($4.50) or the $2 black ostrich with its smooth outside pouch. More like a kangaroo! (This bag, with its famous name, would normally be $54.)

At a shop like this, of course, you'll find something new all the time. You may not find precisely the dress we have described, but that's what makes it an adventure to go shopping.

DAVID AND LISA, a 1962 film about disturbed children, starring Janet Margulies (above) and Keir Dullea, returns this week to the Garden Theatre.

The German Jew whose ambitions are thwarted by Mundt, the Communist intelligence chief, Claire Bloom is cast as the leftist librarian who befriends Lemus.

The mood is somber, underplaying the message of the duplicity on both sides. The director, Martin Ritt, moves the drama slowly towards its bitter climax with a restraint seldom seen in the translation of a novel to the screen. Burton and Werner head an excellent cast.

BRUNSWICK RKO
To Die in Madrid opens this Saturday. This film, chosen by movie critics Bosley Crowther and Judith Crist as one of the year's ten best, describes Spanish turbulent years of civil war, 1936-1939.

It conveys a tragic message, fashioned from newsreels, photographs, the poetry and prose of Lorca, Unamuno, and La Plante. The bitter conflict resulted in the death of a million people. It was the first (total) war and the testing ground for World War II. Both sides committed horrible crimes. The outstanding aspect of this 85-minute documentary is its imaginative editing. For instance, the endless discussions of Western civilization are shown by repeating the same shots of various statesmen arguing for conferences. It is a film that has an object lesson for today's world.

GARDEN

David and Lisa and Lord of the Flies (thru Saturday) Two film classics concerned with the intricacies of the mind. Both films created sensations in their day. The camera records Lisa's insanity with a sensitivity bordering on grief. The dialogue is sparse, the camera tells the story of the young girl and her only reality, a fellow sufferer named David.

In "Lord of the Flies," based on William Golding's novel, the camera records the mounting savagery of a group of schoolboys stranded on a deserted island until the viewer's mind begs for relief.

Beat the Devil and The Blue Angel (Sun., Mon., Tues.) Humphrey Bogart, the great tough guy of the Thirties, co-stars with Jennifer Jones, "The Girl," a good story with plenty of action.

Marlene Dietrich, a myth or an unknown to most of today's youth, appears in her first great film, "The Blue Angel," which catapulted her into a series of glamour films during the Thirties.

"AROUND THE BAY" Wildlife Film Set, Delaware Bay, with its intimate relationship between man, sea and the varied animal life in the waters and marshes, is the subject of an Audubon Wildlife Film "Around the Bay," to be shown this Friday under the auspices of the Trenton Natural Club.

The narrator will be George Regensburg, an associate professor at Delaware State College and an Audubon Society lecturer. The showing will be shown this Friday under the auspices of the Trenton Natural Club.

PLAN RUMOR FORUMS

Parents of Teachers, Princeton psychologists, pharmacists, social workers, teachers, municipal and state police will serve as panelists in a series of three forums at Princeton High School, sponsored by the Parents' Committee on Social Concerns.

The forums are designed to take a look behind the rumors of teenage activities. The first, planned for parents of ninth graders, will be held at 8 p.m. Monday. The March 28 forum will be for parents of tenth graders, and the April 4 session for parents of students in grades 11 and 12. All interested adults are welcome.

Panelists who will take part in all three forums are: psychiatrists Nathan Boywin, William Combs, Willard Delymple, Henry Murphy, Dr. William Jones and Shirley Van Persey; pharmacists Paul Ashen, Everett Campbell, Morris Forer, George Newell and Henry deGeorge.

Others will be Capt. Gerald Dolar and members of the State Police narcotics squad. Lt. Frank Maguire and Juvenile Officer Ralph Proceedings of Princeton Borough, Sgt. Fred Porter and Juvenile Officer Walter Emma of the Township.

Bogers Carrington of Youth Associates, Mrs. Elizabeth Trimble, Family Services, Mrs. Ruth Loz, Witherspoon School, Madeline Kinsinger, Mrs. Maxine Lampert and Mrs. Pat Craciello, social workers.

Modelers will include Raymond Male, Jack Humalover, John Valentine and the Rev. Walter Watson.

The Parents' Committee on Social Concerns is composed of representatives of Princeton Day School, Hun School, Stuart Country Day School and Princeton High School. The committee is on growth of a meeting of PTA presidents on February 10, following an alert from the high school PTA on teenage drinking and exposure to narcotics.

Panelists will present facts about the menace of alcohol, drug and narcotics in the Princeton community and will answer questions. In order to insure ample opportunity for individual participation, the audience each evening will be divided into four units, each with a complete panel. Although the committee chose to spread attendance evenly over the three meetings by assigning class nights, parents may attend any session.

In today's column I hope to help answer some of the many questions women and then a few have about dandruff.

Did you know that "dandruff" occurs on all parts of your body? Actually the term "dandruff" comes from the word "dander" which means sweat or sebum. Usually the word "dandruff" is applied to the head — and can be described as excessive flaking of dead scalp cells. But all of the skin has this shedding action. But body "dandruff" is not so aesthetic, as it is shed off on sheets and underclothing and is washed off in the tub or shower. On the scalp, however, it is more noticeable.

One reason for this is because the hair traps the flakes. Another reason is that the scalp holds the flakes on the scalp, making it hard to brush and wash out. More extreme cases of scalp dandruff can be and are mostly caused by physical or mental tension, poor diet habits, heavy medications and bacteria.

There is no known cure for dandruff. It is possible to prevent it. You may think you're rid of it only to have it crop up again. Dandruff treatments of your year round are your wisest course.

For your professional hair and scalp treatments, come to the TAVERNWOOD BEAUTY MANOR, 69 Palmer Square West, or call 924-3935.

HOLD BUDGET HEARING

That County Mercer County emerged again as the villain Thursday night, when the Township held its public hearing on the $1.4 million budget for 1966.

"Again," because the municipalities of Mercer County (except Trenton), have been complaining helplessly and bitterly about their staggering county assessment ever since the figures were presented late in February.

The Township's local property budget is up eight cents; its school budget up 13 cents; and its county budget up 16 cents. The chief cause of the county hike is Mercer's decision to buy Donnelly Hospital, a nursing home owned by the city of Trenton.

"What about this county hospital purchase?" asked Miss Helen Fairbanks, 70 Valley Road.

It was Trenton, Committee Burton Peskin, who attended the county's public hearing with fellow committeemen Russell Mont and Administrator Joseph R. Nini, replied to her question.

"The Freeborders told us the city of Trenton had found the hospital too expensive, and they said they had no choice but to buy it," Mr. Peskin said. "Donnelly has an income of $650,000 and $12 million in expenses a year. The county says they had no choice; well, why did they feel they had to buy to competition, if indeed compulsion was used?"

He asked them "What was the legal basis for the purchase of Donnelly?" and the only reply I got was: "Aren't you in favor of helping sick people?"

Mr. Peskin said that Donnelly now has 169 patients. He pointed out that it is a nursing home, not a hospital, and he said he had asked the Freeborders why Donnelly patients couldn't be cared for in various nursing homes throughout the county.

"I asked them what studies were made before this purchase was considered, but I did not get a satisfactory reply."

Double Jeopardy? The Township now has one resident in Donnelly but usually has none. "We already pay $23,000 a year for Township people in Princeton Hospital," Mr. Peskin observed and Mr. Nini added that the county also contributes to municipal hospitals, like Princeton Hospital, for the care of indigents.

Mercer County, in taking over Donnelly, Mr. Peskin said, has set up additional insurance and pension plans for Donnelly employees and must set aside funds for paying off the purchase bonds.

He reminded Committee and the audience that the town's budget for 1966, the town's budget for 1966, because of Donnelly.

"The town's one-year projection, but actually the expense can only increase," Mr.

Peskin warned, "Even now, they're talking about adding on to the building, and in 1967 will the county decide to put back in the budget the things it had to take out for 'belt tightening' this year?"

"It's an account that doesn't close off at the end of each year," Mr. Nini said, "and often we build a surplus. In projecting ahead, we figured we didn't have to allot quite so much."

"People complain that nobody can afford swimming pool fees," interposed Committee member Walter Forster, "and yet our welfare budget goes down because people don't need welfare."

Henry J. Frank, 126 Valley Road who is with Miss Fairbanks, interposed Committee member, asked that the eight-cent municipal increase be wiped out and that part of the budget returned to the 1965 level of $1.05.

The problem in the Township is not the poor on welfare, Mr. Frank said, "but the people in the modest income brackets."

In the end, the budget had to be tabled because of a technicality: Committee had voted an estimated school levy instead of the actual levy approved by the taxpayers (the budget was introduced February 11).

ROBBERS GET $15,000. From Hightstown Market. Two armed robbers held up the Shop Hill supermarket on a Route 130 in East Windsor Township Saturday just as the store was closing and escaped with $15,000 in cash and $12,000 in checks.

The two gunmen, their heads covered with wooden ski masks and brandishing pistols, first took money from the drawer of a cashier. They then ordered the night manager to open the combination safe which yielded two bank bags containing the bulk of the money.

Most of the 10 customers who were in the store at the time were unaware of the robbery. Witnesses told investigator Joseph Bartzak of the Hightstown state police station that it was over in five minutes.

State Police, who are continuing their hunt for the robbers, said on Tuesday that there had been no new developments in their investigation.

TANK FALLS OFF CAR. On Palmer Square. The ads say they are building cars better than ever but you may have a hard time convincing Mrs. Frank W. Hubby, 85 Westcott Road. As Mrs. Hubby was driving on Palmer Square last week, one of the metal straps securing the gas tank of her station wagon snapped, allowing the tank to drop to the roadway. Police said a road crew had to be called to sand down the area that had been covered with gasoline.

Another who experienced car trouble was Bernard Glover, 22 Robert Road, Borough superintendant of grounds and buildings.

The engine wrent of his car, parked in front of the Garden Theater, caught fire at 6:30 Monday evening. Patrolmen Stanley Donald and John Bell smothered the blaze with a powder extinguisher from their patrol car but the disabled had to be left overnight.

case McKinnon, 37, of Airport Road, Hightstown, was crushed to death Friday under a pile of fertilizer while working at the Federal Chemical Company in Prospect Plains. He was operating a payloader in a storage bin when the fertilizer fell on him.
Mr. McKinnon was born in Philadelphia. He was a member of the Mt. Olivet Baptist Church and Keystone Lodge
12. He is survived by his wife,
Roseanne, two daughters,
Brenda and Cynthia, two sons,
Clarence Jr. and Michael, a sister, Mrs. Lillian Thomas;
and a brother, Lee.
The funeral was held at the Mt. Olivet Baptist Church, Hightstown, with burial in Cedar Hill Cemetery.

CAR WHEELS STOLEN
From Separate Cars. Borough police received calls
from two car owners last week reporting wheels stolen from their automobiles.
Eric Pajano, Alexander Hall, Princeton Seminary, told police both front wheels and tires
were missing from his car parked in the lot behind the Seminary power house. He valued them at $50.

Ernest Hoagland, 24 Clay Street, reported a front wheel and tire gone from his car. It had been parked in the Clay Street Housing Project lot.
Robert Jefferson of Jefferson Plumbing & Heating, Cherry Valley Road, called police Monday to report the theft of a 14-foot piece of copper piping from Witherspoon Street where he had been working. Replacement cost $60.

MAN FALLS 26 FEET
From Seminary Church.
John Mascoine, 48 of Perth Amboy, an employee of the American Clinique Company, Hackettstown, fell 26 feet

Monday afternoon while working on a smokestack at the Princeton Seminary power house.
Mr. Mascoine was taken by the First Aid and Rescue Squad to Princeton Hospital and admitted for treatment of a fractured jaw, confusion and abrasions. The mishap occurred at 3:30 p.m.

Andrew L. Houghtaling, 20, 12 Stockton Street, 26 employee at McCarter Theatre,
was injured slightly early Saturday evening when he was almost struck by a car as he was about to cross Mercer Street at the intersection of Nassau.

Mr. Houghtaling told police
he was forced to push himself away with both arms to avoid being hit by a car that had turned sharply left onto Mercer. His right arm received most of the jolt.

Police said Mr. Houghtaling was unable to provide a description of the car or obtain its license number. They were notified of the incident by Princeton Hospital.

"Y" EXTENDS WELCOME

To Wives of Fellows. Women from 29 countries, living in the United States from six to eight months while their husbands participate in the Eisenhower Exchange Fellowship, will be guests of the YWCA from Sunday, March 28 to Monday, March 29.

Eisenhower Fellowships established in 1953, are awarded to citizens of the United States and other nations of the free world, and are designed to offer leadership training as a positive force for international understanding.

The Eisenhower program customarily begins with an orientation seminar in a "small, quiet University town." This program introduces them to America and prepares them for what they will see across the country in the coming months. While the Eisenhower families are in Princeton, "Y" committee members will take the wives to visit the hospital, a radio station and a newspaper plant. They will tour "Marv" and will witness the steps of George Washington between Princeton and the Delaware.

In addition, they will visit schools, starting with classes at the nursery level, and will see a "home sewing" fashion show at the Y.

CLUB DAY PLANNED

By Women's Club. The Women's Club of Princeton will hold a "club day" this Thursday at the Shrine Club. One of the club's departments will exhibit its accomplishments of the past year. The exhibits open at 11:30, and the regular meeting begins at 1:30. Election of officers for the coming term will be held. The meeting will include a reading by the creative writing department, a song presentation by the music department, and a performance of the first scene of Clare Booth Luce's "The Women" by the drama department.

Members should bring their own sandwiches, and the hospitality committee will serve beverages and dessert between 12 and 1. Mrs. Paul A. Ashton will be hostess chairman, and Mrs. John F. Scott will be flower chairman.

RUMMAGE SALE SET

By Ladies' Auxiliary. The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Princeton Lions Club will hold its annual rummage sale on Friday, March 23, from 9 to 4:30 at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Proceeds from the sale will be given to a nature's scholarship fund and other charities. Anyone wishing to contribute merchandise to the sale should call the chairman, Mrs. William Kiefer, 466-1396.

PEACE GROUP TO MEET

To Plan Demonstration. The Viet Nam Peace Committee will meet next Thursday, March 24, at the First Presbyterian Church at 8:30 p.m.

After hearing committee reports, the group will plan future activities including participation in the anti-Viet Nam War demonstration at Newark on March 26. The public is invited to attend the meeting. (See advertisement, page 32.)

In criminal court, Walter Kubitz, 25, of New York City,
was fined $20 after pleading guilty to passing a worthless
check for $14.60 February 24
at the Restaurant on Bayard Lane. Unable to pay, he was sentenced to four days in Mercer County Jail.

Kubitz had tried to cash a check for $200 the day before at the American Express office, 10 Nassau Street. For identification, he used a credit card he had stolen from mail intended for Edward Hughes of New York, an editor for Dennis Engle, the clerk at American Express, became suspicious and called the police. He was later picked up at a Bordentown motel.

An anti-smell campaign
David N. Cifelli, 30, 138 Lincoln Lane, brought by his wife,
Janice, was dismissed. Mr.
Cifelli pleaded not guilty.

COLLEGE FEEL PLANNED

dent. Mrs. Donald Blithner, vice-president. Mrs. Carl Good, treasurer, and Mrs. Wagner, hospitality chairman.

WOMAN RUINED OF $34

By Victim's Father. A woman resident is out $34
because she believed a man who she had come to paint her hallway.

Police said the victim told them a man came to the door of her apartment Saturday afternoon and told her that the Walter B. Howe Agency had sent him to paint the hallway. She was to deliver him the money for the paint—$34—and would be reimbursed
by Howe, the rent-collecting agency for the apartment building.

After paying the money, the victim continued, the man told her he would give her a receipt after he returned from the kitchen to get a drink.
Later when she investigated,
there was no receipt, no man,
and no money.

PLATE WINDOW BROKEN

By Runaway Car. When Bernard Bucks, 64, 64 Birch Avenue, parked his car on Witherspoon Street at 6:40 Saturday morning, he failed to set its hand brake.

It rolled backwards down
the hill near Nassau Street,
crossed the street and jumped
the curb, rolling into a live
by eight-foot plate glass window of the Nassau Barber Shop, 13 Witherspoon. Police made no charges.

NAE PAROLE VIOLATOR

At Princeton Hospital. A parole violator, 172 Sommers Perry Street, Trenton, was jacked up Friday at Princeton Hospital where he had been working as a kitchen man.

He was turned over to members of the Parole Office who took Sommers back to Trenton.
He was detected as the result of a routine investigation by P.I. Russell Shingle.

TO EXPLORE CHINA

And its UN Role. Maurice Adams, Foreign Relations cor-

speak on "The UN and Chinese Representation" at the Foreign Policy Workshop of the League of Women Voters next Wednesday, March 22, at 8:15
p.m. in the staff lounge, Firestone Library.

An Australian, Mr. Adams
has lived all over the world
and has published five books about his experience. He is now stationed in New York
staff correspondent for a group of periodicals, radio and television stations in Australia.

Mrs. Peter Patterson, chairman of the Foreign Policy workshop, will introduce Mr.
Adams. A question-answer period will follow his talk. The public is invited to attend.

PATRIOTISM DOES NOT MEAN

"LEAVE IT TO THE GOVERNMENT!"

As veterans of the U. S. armed forces, we assert that real patriotism sometimes demands dissent from government policies, however painful this may be to the patriotism.

WE HAVE DEFENDED OUR COUNTRY BEFORE,
AND WOULD DO IT AGAIN.

But we believe that America's cause in Vietnam is wicked and unworthy, that American and Vietnamese lives are being lost for no good reason, the Administration claims that we are "defending" South Vietnam against "aggression" — and that we must continue to fight until the war is a civil war, in which we intervened to crush the revolutionary side when it seemed about to win. Secretary Rusk tells us that we want only self-determination for South Vietnam — but we helped Diem frustrate the Geneva agreement for elections in 1956, we refuse even now to recognize the Vietnamese as a legiti-mate expression of South Vietnamese aspirations, and we maintain the cruel fiction that our puppet regime in Saigon (the chief of whom has publicly expressed his admiration of Hitler) represents many people outside the Pentagon and the State Department.

MEANWHILE, VIETNAMESE MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN ARE BEING SHOT, BOMBED, NAPALM-ED AND GASED — in your name. Their houses are being leveled and their crops poisoned. Now we are about to "pacify" them: that is, to persuade them that they really want Marshal Ky to have a chance to try his plans on them. All this in the name of Vietnamese freedom and self-determination, and American honor.

WE BELIEVE THAT AMERICA SHOULD CEASE AGGRESSIVE WARFARE IN VIETNAM, NORTH AND SOUTH: THAT WE SHOULD ACCEPT VIETCONG REPRESENTATION AT PEACE NEGOTIATIONS:
THAT WE SHOULD FINALLY — TEN YEARS TOO LATE — ALLOW THE VIETNAMESE PEOPLE TO VOTE IN A FREE, INTERNATIONALLY SUPERVISED ELECTION — AND THAT WE SHOULD ACCEPT THE RESULTS.

JOIN WITH US. If you are a veteran and share our views, send us your name, address and telephone number. Make your voice heard. Help redeem American honor as you once helped defend American freedom.

TWO LEAVE BANKS

To join Clark, Dodge & Co., the investment firm of Clark, Dodge & Co. has announced
four staff appointments for its Princeton office.

Gilbert J. Turner, formerly vice-president and trust officer
of the First National Bank,

will join Clark, Dodge & Co. as specialist in handling investment advisory accounts. George J.
Adrian, formerly vice-president of Clark, Dodge & Co., has joined the firm to work on the brokerage and mutual fund aspects of the business.

In addition, Clark, Dodge has announced the appointment of Leighton H. Laughlin and Arthur P. Morgan as co-managers of the Princeton office.

Both Mr. Laughlin and Mr.
Morgan have been associated with Clark, Dodge for a number of years. Mr. Laughlin was formerly with Opinion Research Corporation and served for a time as administrative director of Project Matterhorn at Forrestal Research Center. Mr. Morgan was a vice-president of Richardson-Merrell and of the Empire
Trust Company, New York.

Mr. Turner was with the New York Stock Exchange and the New York accounting firm, entering the trust field in 1951. He was associated with banks in Connecticut and Florida before coming to First National in 1957 as head of the trust department.
Mr. Adrian joined the Irring Trust Company in 1948
and became its assistant secretary and loan officer in 1953.
He has been a director of Princeton Bank and Trust, specializing as vice-president in loans and customer contact assignments.

All Active Here. All four men are active in community affairs. Mr. Laughlin is vice-president of Family Service,
a board member of the Adult Center and active member of PAHR. Mr. Morgan is chairman of the Borough Planning Board and vice-chairman of Princeton Day School.

Mr. Turner is treasurer of Trinity Episcopal Church and has also been treasurer of the YMCA and the former Princeton Community Chest. He was a member of the Citizens'
Committee of the Borough
Board of Education.

Mr. Adrian received the General H. Lambert Award for outstanding community service
in 1964. In that same year, he was president of Kiwanis.
In 1962 and 1963, he served as co-treasurer of the Princeton Hospital Fund.

Harland Hoisington, formerly manager of the Princeton office of Clark, Dodge and an officer of the firm, will become a consultant for the company's Princeton investment advisory clients. A founder of the Nassau Fund,
Mr. Hoisington will continue as its president.

VICE-PRESIDENT NAMED
At Princeton Bank, Charles
B. Stratt has been elected vice-president of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company. He will take office March 28.
Mr. Stratt is currently with
the Princeton office of Clark,
Dodge and Company. He joined the company last year after
three years in Venezuela and Bolivia where he worked on lending operations for the World Bank.
A 1949 Princeton University graduate, Mr. Stratt started his banking career in New York and rose to the position of assistant treasurer of the New York Trust Company. He returned to the University in 1959 to do graduate work and was for a time an instructor

in the economics department.

DOUGHTERY ACCREDITED
By Phi Society, Joseph A.
Doughtery, president of Doughtery Associates, 195
Nassau Street, has been accredited by the Public Relations Society of America. To qualify, Mr. Doughtery was required to take a six-hour
written exam and an oral exam
to demonstrate appropriate experience and character.

The society's accreditation program is designed to raise public relations by giving recognition to members who demonstrate a high level of competence. Mr. Doughtery is one of 609 public relations executives to be accredited since the voluntary program was started last year.

Mr. Doughtery organized his Princeton firm in 1960 and last year, added a New York office. He serves businesses in a wide range of fields.

Before coming to Princeton,
he was public relations group
head of the J. Walter Thompson Company and public relations account supervisor at Young and Rubicam. Mr.
Doughtery served with the U. S. Army as a public relations officer during World War
I and as a public information officer for a year during the Korean conflict. He lives with his wife, Helen, and their four daughters at 2 Audubon Lane.

REASSESSMENT IS TOPIC
For Real Estate Group, The Princeton Real Estate Group held its monthly meeting at the Peacock Inn March 9.

The speaker was Gordon Blackader, assistant regional director of the Clevelinhaus Company, the consulting firm which is making a reassessment of property in Princeton Township. He explained the need for reassessment, and the reason why property is being reassessed.

tion. Mr. Bensinger, a former captain in the Air Force, reserved, piloted their six-seater aircraft.

Mr. Bensinger is currently with the Princeton office of Clark, Dodge and Company.

Mr. Stratt is currently with
the Princeton office of Clark,
Dodge and Company. He joined
the company last year after
three years in Venezuela and Bolivia where he worked on

Dennis Doornkamp, Princeton Line Road, planned the exhibit and arranged it, assisted by a committee including the Cunningham Brothers, Lombard Inc. who furnished greenhouse facilities for forcing plant material, and Allen Parley of Princeton who supplied construction and truck facilities. The 500-square-foot display featured a waterfall over rocks and a naturalized pool in a setting of spring bulbs and flowering shrubs with a background of evergreens.

VENTURE SUCCESSFUL
For Student Publisher. Daniel L. Goldenson, 21, a Princeton University senior, has proven that there are still economic opportunities for the ingenious young man who can find a need and fill it. Mr. Goldenson is the founder and president of Resource Publications, a national publishing company which provides a link between industry and engineering students seeking employment.

Mr. Goldenson established his corporation after the success of his first publishing venture, "The New Jersey Index of Economic Opportunity," a paperback booklet consisting of 40 pages of 40 companies looking for engineers. Each of the companies paid $135 for its listing.

Five thousand copies of the books were distributed with great interest to engineering schools, government offices and libraries throughout the country. Government officials and businessmen have praised the publication as a much-needed service.

Mr. Goldenson is now planning to issue similar indexes for each of the states except Louisiana and Alaska. Last December, he commissioned several students from various areas of the country to sell ads to industries near their home towns during Christmas. It was to express your appreciation to mention it to our of visitors.

vacation. The efforts met with considerable success, and he decided to incorporate his operation.

Mr. Goldenson is a Minus student at the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs. He is headed for graduate school next year.

THE BEST YEARS OF OUR LIVES was the title of an award-winning motion picture some years ago. For Richard Mullen (left) they are the present; for David Ward, the years between 20 and 40. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: In your opinion, what are the best years of our lives?

Where asked: Princeton Shopping Center.

Richard Mullen, New York, architect for Diuhl and Stein, 20 Nassau Street: Just off the top of my head I'd say the years I'm beginning to be living—the present. I'm not the kind of person that lives in the past. That thinks things done 20 years ago are the greatest. And I don't know that much about the future.

David M. Ward, Manville, aerial photographer: I would say between 20 and 40. These are the challenging years. The years you rear your children, the years you build your business or career. These are your productive years, the deciding years.

Mrs. Sylvia Lewis, Skillman, doctor's receptionist: I think our high school years. Fewer responsibilities than we have after we are married and I think we are more carefree then.

Mrs. Jane Hammond, Hope, well, teacher: I think your early middle years when you have lived long enough to have a little sense and you are not too old that you are falling apart.

Enoch Silver, Princeton Junction, painter: I think when I was 25. I had a good time, I worked steady and had a good youth. I'd say 25 up to 40.

Mrs. Harry J. Valverde, 20 Woodland Drive, teacher: Oh, I'm too young to be able to tell you that!

Mrs. Raymond Wagg, Skillman, housewife: I'd say between 20 and 40. I think after we get past 50 it begins to come home to us that there is only one way we can go. We think more about life. When we're young, we want life to go fast; when we're old, we want it to slow down. We don't realize how lucky we are when we're young. I know my father used to say, "Your school days are your best years," and I used to think he didn't know what he was talking about!

Edward Mayer, Route 518, Witherspoon Street, teacher: Well, I know this year isn't my best. I'd say between 30 and 40. I can't even account for those years. Why? I don't know. I must have been in some sort of a dream or haze in those years. I must have been having a good time.

Mrs. Martha Yeager, 238 Witherspoon Street, teacher: Well, I know this year isn't my best. I'd say between 30 and 40. I can't even account for those years. Why? I don't know. I must have been in some sort of a dream or haze in those years. I must have been having a good time.

Mrs. Dorothy Merrill, Griggstown, housewife: I feel my best years are ahead. I expect to improve with age. Everybody in my family has improved; I expect to, too.

Rex Goredigh, Canal Road, artist: I would say my mature years. I feel there is a re-evaluation of one's values.

Mrs. Helen Elkington, Skillman, school bus driver: My high school years. I had a lot of fun then. I miss all my old boyfriends.

James Conover, 45 Grover Avenue, printer: You can make them practically any time you want if you have the incentive. If you have a good attitude and outlook, there's no reason why right now can't be the best years of your life.

Mrs. Clarence Spencer, 213 Moore Street, housewife: They're all good and they get better as you go along.

Mrs. Adrease Sanders, Trenton, clerk at the Acme Market: When you're older you have more money, more time to enjoy yourself, when you're young you have your children to enjoy, your own home to look forward to—things like that. It's hard to choose. After our children are grown, we hope to have more money and be able to travel but I'd say probably your best years are when you're young. You do a lot more, you make all your plans when you're young. As you get older, you sit back and enjoy them.

How To Survive

More than 6,500 people drown in this country annually, one writer points out, and with 60 per cent of all our recreation now related to water, this figure will increase. So before you head for the water, promise yourself you'll survive to tell the tale. Over 60% of all drownings — it drowns ten times more men than women yearly. Never ignore "no swim" signs. Never swim alone in unknown waters. Don't rush off swimming against swimming with over-heated, over-stuffed or over-tired. Don't plunge into icy water — it badly shocks the nervous system and can lead to tragedy. Do beware the firm swim of the season — most drownings occur in June. We believe caution is the best policy, just as dealing with us is for your best interests. Kammer Buick-Oldsmobile Co. Route 206, opp. Princeton Airport, 921-2222.

MALBOX

To a Hit-and-Run Driver.
To the Editor of Town Topics:
Last night our beloved poodle was hit by a car on Mercer Street and left in the middle of the road to die. Fortunately, a lady, a complete stranger to us, drove by and seeing the dog writhing there, stopped. She took the people closest at hand, who just happened to be family friends. They in turn, fearing that we were out of town on a day's notice, took the dog to a veterinarian. This when we returned everything that was humanly possible had been done to save Barker's life. To these people, we wish to extend our warmest thanks for their goodness and for their willingness to go out of their way to help others.

We do not blame the person who killed our dog for having and him Barker was dark of coat and thus very difficult to see at night. But surely a person driving a car which hits a good sized dog hard enough to break the dog's spine knows he must have hit "something." We condemn this person's failure to stop, examine and report the damages he has caused.

Have the callousness and indifference of the "Cold Society" grown to such an extent that we can no longer expect this courtesy? It is a sad commentary if it is true.

Light the Lights.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
The Princeton area is described often as an enlightened community one that tries to solve its own problems. Homebreaking is a local problem. Repeatedly, our law and enforcement agencies have urged all homeowners to use night lights.

The cost to a private party for inside and/or outside lighting is small. Have you ever noticed how dark it is in your neighborhood? Let's use our lights.

Letter of Thanks.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
I wish to acknowledge and publicly express my appreciation to the Princeton Community for the many kinds acts and words of condolence received during our recent bereavement.

The efficient, professional performance of the Borough and Township police during the funeral procession commands special and sincere words of gratitude. This I offer.

The many wonderful friends and neighbors who unselfishly served me and my family, would be impossible to properly thank. Please know your acts and words have been a real source of strength and renewed hope. During this period of personal crisis, great comfort has come from the knowledge to many members of the community share our sorrow and concern.

For the kind acts, the expressions of sympathy, the words and deeds of condolence, I hereby offer my sincere appreciation and thanks.

Pool Fees "Divisive"

To the Editor of Town Topics:
The steps taken by the Borough and Township of Princeton in establishing a swimming pool in response to expressed community interest has been received with enthusiasm. The fee scale set by the Recreation Board is in variance with the needs and purposes to be served by these facilities. It would seem that a mistake has been made in establishing fees that exclude the large majority in the use of the facilities.

It would certainly be reasonable to charge a nominal fee per person for an identifying tag for residents of the two communities for the season. A significantly higher fee for use by non-residents would be very much in order.

In such a fashion the overall goals of a non-divided community would be admirably served.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
The following letter was typed by the West Windsor Township Parent-Teachers Association to the Boards of Education of Princeton Borough and Princeton Township.

"The West Windsor Township Parent-Teachers Association is greatly concerned about the uncertain status of West Windsor's future as a sending district to Princeton High school. We fully endorse the statements made in the recent letter to you from the West Windsor Board of Education.

We, too, urge that the needs of West Windsor Township be carefully considered as you draw up your plans for the future and that the West Windsor Board of Education be consulted about the program you are contemplating.

"Through our PTA School Board Liaison Committee, we have kept abreast of the problems facing our School Board which have grown out of the uncertain situation in Princeton. The PTA is only too aware that a scant four years remain in our current sending agreement with Princeton High School and that the high school needs of our student population must be properly met.

"In this connection, the West Windsor PTA School Board Liaison Committee is ready to cooperate with you in any way you may desire. We, too, wish to insure that our students will continue to receive the best education possible."

If You Feel PINCHED... you need a home improvement loan

Has your home grown along with your family?
You can't enjoy comfortable living if you feel pinched for lack of space. One way to solve such growing pains is to add more living space to your present home. To help you pay for such improvements you need a low cost home improvement loan. You pay the workmen and suppliers with our cash. You repay us in modest monthly sums. And you'll defeat that pinched feeling right away. Another way to get the right size home for you and your family is to sell your present home and buy a larger one. See a good realtor and visit with our expert mortgage people now. Don't be pinched by lack of space — expand your living with a home improvement loan or a mortgage on a new house. Either way we are ready to help in every way possible. Come in today!

in defense of the Y.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

In your recent critique of the report by the Citizens Survey Committee, you emphasized a question, "WHAT ABOUT THE Y?" Then said, "Survey committee members surely know that the YMCA, in particular, is the most criticized organization in town."

I have a couple of questions of you. These questions are: 1. The Y is criticized by whom, specifically? 2. What are all the specific items which truly need an answer or clarification?

If you know the answers to these questions, don't you accept an editorial responsibility to state all these things so our point answers could be promptly supplied for those who seek, in good faith, such information, including TOWN TOPICS. After all, as you proudly announced, you've been in town now for 30 years, or heard a little more to sound like a lot. We of the Y have faint enthusiasm for address pragmatics, past or present—or persons without the courage to identify themselves.

Of course, the "detractors" you allude to, who label the Y "a mess," are those who, whatever that means; those who ask how many lower-income (how low?) families and Negro boys are served; etc., will undoubtedly be doubly disappointed in the "hopeless cases," in the following categories:

1. Those who have never read or pay any attention to Y facts recalled time and time again in various local forums.

2. Those who intentionally tune out when the facts are reviewed, because facts tend to inhibit those with free-wheeling opinions and questionable self-serving motives.

3. Those who have been fully exposed to the facts but still sound off, because "envy" against their will, are of the same opinion still.

4. Those who don't understand what the YMCA is or does, or would make it into something narrowly more to their liking. For example—the Y is not a Settlement or Alma House. Nor are its buildings, donated by the generosity of Princeton's citizens, intended for ad hoc and unsupervised behavior, including just "hanging out"—as socially desirable as some advertise this to be.

The Y is not a tax built watering hole or dance hall any more than Princeton University is tax built and operated like the University of California at Berkeley.

I am not optimistic that negative or just plain quarrelsome complainers can be converted into constructive, objective suggesters who are needed. Nevertheless shall we try? Together! Hope springs eternal, it is said.

I invite you to ask the Princeton YMCA the questions you feel were appropriate for asking by the Citizens Survey Committee, even though outside the scope of their Survey questionnaires. Since you are in the business of reporting facts concerning the area community, its individuals, activities and institutions, the Y will once again supply the information you seek. You can then publish and share the knowledge you have acquired with your readers including, I take it, an assortment of unidentified "detractors." Maybe this approach will help.

TOWN TOPICS and the Y-MCA can then close the door—and our respective ears—to those who continue to make part of a hobby of griping, evidently for visceral ventilation; to those who erroneously reason that exception is always clearly illustrative of the rule; to those who are perpetually grinding some personal axe. In short, to those who believe they choose or like to believe—and spread it around like gossip.

Nicholas Harsanyi will conduct this second subscription concert. The two guitarists will perform concerti for two guitars and orchestra by Vivaldi and by Haydn.

The program will also include Bach's Brandenburg Concerto No. 5, the Symphony II for String Orchestra and the contemporary Swiss Paul Müller-Zürich, and the "Elegy" by Mathilde Mechner of the Westminster Choir College faculty.

Long established in Europe, Praelst and Lagoya made their American debut in 1961 and have toured the concert circuit each season since that time.

FOLK OPERA READY
"Hansel and Gretel," Real Lederhosen, an ensemble of 14 dancing angels and a chorus of 19 angelic young voices will contribute to the Princeton Opera Association's production of "Hansel and Gretel."

The well-loved Humperdinck will be produced in its entirety Saturday at 11 a.m. and again at 2:30 p.m. in the region of four Chicagoers, the Association's music director.

Two sets of singers have been cast for the leading roles: Deborah Truax and Keitha Needham will alternate as Gretel, Mary Alice Wilson and Noreen Barnes as Hansel and Virginia Cole and Edith Wilson as the Witch.

The children's chorus will consist of Holly Edinger, Douglas and Diane Ponia, Monica and Christopher Neuss, Kristi Rancey, Alex Gossens, Susie Ewerd Christie Seckley,

GOT A GINGERBREAD RECIPE? The Witch (Virginia Cole) ropes in Hansel for a baking expedition in the basement of the Princeton Opera Association production of "Hansel and Gretel." Hansel is Mary Alice Witte and Gretel, all tea certain that she will be next, is Keitha Needham.

Leanne Woodward, Carolyn Yoder, Susie Schrader, Walter and David Ziering, Stefan and Boyd Barnes and Dana and Andy Benard.

Young members of the Princeton Ballet Society will dance the "Fourteen Angels" ballet, choreographed by Joan Lucas.

Tickets, at $1 each, may be purchased at the University Book Store, Maler's Book Shop, the Princeton Music Center or at the door on Saturday.

Rose Road, Princeton, both on March 11; Mr. and Mrs. James J. Mangano, 104 Bull Run Road, Trenton, all on March 12.

ANTIQUES SHOW PLANNED

By Wesley Club. The Wesley Club of Central New Jersey will sponsor the Princeton Antiques Show from March 31 through April 2 at the Princeton Day School. The theme of the show will be "Living with Antiques" and it will feature furnished rooms of two model houses.

The rooms of a town house and a country house will be laid out in the double-size gym of the newly-opened school. Each room will be furnished with authentic antiques from the stocks of 30 dealers. All the items will be for sale.

Miss Jane M. Szyen of the Princeton Decorating Shop will decorate the rooms with background wallpapers, printed fabrics, rugs and trimmings by Howard and Schaffer of New York City. The display will include an 18th century drawing room, a gun room, a library, kitchen, and a garden solarium. Food, home-made by Wesley Club members, will be served.

The show is produced entirely by the club without the help of a professional director. Co-chairmen of the show are Mrs. Harry Heber Jr. and Mrs. George H. Hughes Jr. Gov. and Mrs. Dukes are among the sponsors.

The show benefits the Wesley College Development and Scholarship Funds. Last year the club netted $4,000.

OFFICERS ELECTED

By Homeowners' Club. Officers for 1966 of the Princeton Community Home-maker Service are: a Benjamin Wright, president; Mrs. C. S. Hildebrand, vice-president; Mrs. Peter Mark, secretary; and Mr. Thomas J. Foody, treasurer.

Mrs. Murray Lampert, Dr. Jeanette Munro, Mrs. Harold F. Stoddard Jr. and Mrs. Harold A. Thomas were installed as new members of the Board of Trustees.

The Home-maker Service's staff consists of trained home-makers, under the supervision of Mrs. Elizabeth Craig, a registered nurse, who goes into homes where the regular homemaker is incapacitated and needs extra help. The group is currently organizing to participate in the Princeton Hospital Home Care Program.

FRENCH GROUP TO MEET

To Hear Camille Lecture. Prof. Jean Ambroise will lecture on "Camus et l'Algérie" at the next meeting of Le Cercle Français de Princeton on Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. in Princeton University Union Hall.

Prof. Ambroise teaches at the Lycée Français of New York. He studied at the Institut de Psychologie in Paris. He is a playwright, and is associated with Jean Anouilh.

HOW TO MAKE MUSIC

(You Need to be Music. David Krachenbuhl, composer and pianist, will describe "How to Compose Music" for Junior Museum boys and girls in this Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the New School for Music Auditorium, 553 Nassau.

Children who attend will be at least seven years old. Mr. Krachenbuhl, who has played over seven himself, will show boys and girls how to make up their own music. They will play what the children have composed.

Not a fat cat

The 250S emphasizes performance, not status. A major technical gain: 4-wheel disc brakes as standard equipment (a feature no domestic "luxury" car offers). Another forward stride: fully independent suspension. The 250S sticks to the road and you stick to your seat. A pleasant extra: a load-leveling spring at the rear with 24 lbs. of undercoating. A solid guarantee of long life.

Quiet at 100 mph

For all its performance prowess, the 250S is a highly civilized car. "There is as little inside noise at 100 mph as at a standstill," reports New York Herald Tribune automotive columnist Leo Levine.

A 6-cylinder, single overhead camshaft engine delivers cruising speeds close to its 112-mph maximum — and an average fuel consumption rate of 20 miles per gallon. Patient men build their engines. Afterward, other patient men test-run it for an hour.

Concern for safety

The deep Mercedes-Benz concern for safety continues in the 250S. Inside, possible danger spots are padded, recessed or made of pliable materials — and the rear-view mirror is spring-mounted in its socket. Front and rear body sections are designed to yield on impact, absorbing shock before it reaches the passenger area. Safety has dictated the design of every feature, from the steering assembly to the door locks to the roof supports.

MODERN CARPETING Carpel Fibers

The man-made of today's modern carpeting quickly caught up with wool because they offer both economy and longest wear. They resist crushing, fading, staining, moths and mildew.

In 1964, nylon passed wool
in carpet yardage sold. It now accounts for about 44%
of today's carpeting.

The basic quality, correct
staple nylon, gives a tough,
wear-resistant carpet at low cost. Improved, continuous filament nylon also resists fading and pilling which sometimes occur in the bon-ie grade.

At E. Bahndrian & Son, with our many years' experience in caring for rugs, we feel qualified to assist and advise you in the selection of rugs and carpets for your home. We have the facilities
to handle any carpet job,
room-size or wall-to-wall.

Both our Oriental rug sales and service and our domestic carpet sales and service are conducted by appointment only. This ensures that you are seen personally
when you come to our showroom.

ART In Princeton

JURIED SHOW ON VIEW
At McCarter Theatre. The second annual juried show of the Princeton Art Association
commences the March 19-April exhibition at McCarter Theatre.
It has a broad variety of interesting work and shows credit to the young organization which has brought together and uncovered a great many professional and amateur artists in Princeton.

Three artists were singularly prizes. The first award went to Laurence Johnson for his painting "In the Rain" for which he was named for the award. The second award was given to Lau Chen for her watercolor painting "A Barley Field" and the third award was given to Richard Shreve
for his painting "A Barley Field".

A First Honorable Mention
went to Laurence Johnson for his painting "In the Rain".
The monotype is a favorite medium of Mrs. Johnson's. A one-print process which has great flexibility and variation.
"Days Pattern" is a composition of superimposed European character, is very effective.

Second Honorable Mention
was won by Marie Starcken for her "Rocky Hill Quarry".
This is one of our favorites
in the Nassau Club Group
Show this winter.

Ritinous Color. Among other things, a noticeable group of paintings done from the high key palette which seems to be the signal of students of Sam Feinstein.
These are all good, brightening and a lot of "come and go".

"Nancy O'Connor, who always produces an energetic effort, shows a still life which is a masterpiece. It is the "Victorian Parlor" little. It reminds us happily of Grandma's bright crocheted afghan.
Eleanor Foss' "Still Life in Sunlight" is of the same bold color range and is several still lives in one with a vase of tulips, a pot of African violets,
a bowl of fruit and a tea set;
perhaps a bit too much for one canvas but especially painted with great gusto.
Flame Heinen's "Spring"
flowers is simpler in design and color changes and is a thoroughly fresh, competent painting.

"B-finery" by Charles Mc-Vicker is a semi-cold, strong in figure and background contrast, and Helen Schwartz is represented by a blonde, well-painted canvas entitled "Monday on Murray Place." "Underneath Forms" by Janet Glover is a change of pace to the abstract in its mixture of shapes and colors. Paintings by Peter Cook and William Hankinson are interesting exhibits, both parts of a young series, very different in style.

A seascape by Robert Sko-
on appealed to us very much.
"Watching the Breakers" is pointed in a straightforward, unromantic way and we liked

the feeling of the water as it breaks over the rocks and reaches into the horizon. It is not possible to mention each individual exhibit, but we can suggest that the community will be interested in the overall look of this second juried
show of the Princeton Art Association.

Watercolors at Nassau Club.
The Nassau Club presents an exhibition of watercolors by George Ann Gillespie who, with her family, moved to Princeton a year and a half ago. An ardent painter and member of the Princeton Art Association, she has exhibited in PAA shows both annual and juried, and though she has had a successful one-man show in Cambodia sponsored by the USIS, this month marks
her first one-man show in our country. It will consist mainly of landscapes with figures and portraits done in Cambodia
with the addition of a few Princeton scenes.

Mrs. Gillespie studied at the Cerescent Art School in Washington and worked in watercolor portraiture with Elliot O'Hara. Following her husband in his Army career for a quarter-century, she painted
all over Europe and the East.
As mentioned in February, her two paintings in the Nassau Group Show were outstanding in technique and composition.

Her watercolor, "Murray Dodge," in the current PAA show at McCarter Theatre, has the same nerve and feeling for character. It will be worth a visit to the Nassau Club to see her watercolors before April 8. The public may see the show from 10 to noon and from 2:30 to 5 daily.

At The Present Day Club,
photographs in color by George H. Brown, Jr. are on exhibit this month at the Present Day Club. Around the world in one year (to the day),
was the trip that George Brown took for pleasure and education.

From this experience, recorded by camera, he has made a fine selection of subjects to describe the unique character of the various countries he visited. These particular pictures are the highlights and indicate that he has an artistic sense of composition and a sympathetic point of view in relation to the people and countries he seems to have known more than casually.

"Sintra," against the mountain mists: Hawaii's "Trail of Devastation" and "Early Morning on the Hilly Ganges" are quite special. The explanatory plaques are interesting and helpful guides, though as pic-
graphs can stand by itself.

George Brown is the son of
Mr. and Mrs. Brown of Meriden, Conn. He is a graduate of Lawrenceville School and Ohio State, where he received a degree in Electrical Engineering in 1961. He is presently employed as an electrical engineer by RCA in Burlington, Mass.

NEW CLASSES OFFERED

By Art Association. The spring schedule of the Princeton Art Association includes nine classes for adults and two for young people. They start April 4, and most run for 10 weeks.

A class in life drawing and sketching, which will work without an instructor using professional models, and a workshop on flower painting
given by Dagmar Tribble, will to 4 p.m. at the Nassau Street School.

Any artist may enter.
Registration of all art works must be completed between 5:30 and 9 p.m.
this Friday at the school.
A $1 entry fee, per item,
is charged.
In effect will be Joseph Brown, Princeton sculptor; Arnold Roth, cartoonist, and Frank Zachary, former art director of Holiday magazine. Richard Shreve is chairman.

Barnes will teach sculpture
Monday afternoons.

An advanced course in design is offered Wednesday mornings for those who have taken a previous course or have had experience. Mrs.
Margaret Johnson is the instructor. Gregorio Prestopino will teach a five-week course
in painting Wednesday evenings. A course in creative painting, taught by Robert Mueller, will meet Thursday mornings, and Stephen Martins' course in graphics will meet Friday mornings.

There are also painting classes for young people. Saturday mornings Rosemary Blair will conduct a class for children 8 to 12, and William Monaghan will instruct teenagers and college students.
Mrs. Simon Marston is in charge of class registration.

ELECTRIC HEAT

now at a new lower rate

Spring. A delightful time of the year. The air is clear, warm and crisp. It's the time of year when the weather lifts the spirits, makes worries seem smaller. Just like Electric Heat.
It gives you the same sense of worry-free comfort in your own home. Electric Heat is really comfortable. It keeps you warm in silence, requires no space-consuming radiators,

and can give you the added advantage of separate thermostats for room-by-room temperature control. And best of all, Electric Heat is available at a new lower rate, so now it costs less than ever before. If you're building or buying a new home—or adding on to your present one—insist on modern Electric Heat.

SPORTS In Princeton

SPRING IS ON THE WAY

It says on the Schedule. A scant two days from now, chilly winds and possible late snowfall notwithstanding, Princeton's spring sports teams will begin their 1966 seasons. Actually, the two early birds—baseball and lacrosse—will wait until April before they try action at home, with the Tiger men heading all the way to Florida to make certain of warmer temperatures.

Cosch Eddie Dornan will take his ballplayers to Winter Park, where they will defend the Rolling Tournament Championship they won a year ago—without having had a day's practice outdoors until they arrived in the citrus belt. The team will consist of the best college, plus Rochester and Maine, with the northern New Englanders likely to provide the toughest opposition.

A distinct surprise last year when they finished second in both the Eastern Lacrosse and the NCAA District II Tournament while compiling a 21-8 record, the Tigers should do well again because all three of their top pitchers are back: Graham Norcott, Tom Scott and John Redpath won 20 games among them and that's about as solid a trio of veterans as any eastern college can boast.

The Tigers' problem is almost as perennial as dandelions in the outfield: only rarely can they buy a base hit when they need it most. With lose out and the bases to the last of the ninth in the NCAA. Rinal against Lafayette, they'd have been in Omaha for the national championship. If either of the two hitters they sent to bat would have hit safely, Both faded.

Against Yale in the annual commencement game, they won, 4 to 3, but not one of their four rallies scored on a hit. The winning run, in the last of the ninth, crossed the plate when Eli pitcher Don Raymond hit shortstop Joe Sileo on the head with three balls.

Still, pitching is better than 50% of college baseball and combined with any sort of defense, it's about as good as the Tigers of a good season. They'll open at home against Villanova on Wednesday, April 6, and play their first league game here against Cornell on Saturday, April 16.

The complete 1966 baseball schedule:
March 28-April 2, Rolling Tournament at Winter Park, Fla.; Apr. 6, Villanova, 7, New Hampshire; 9, Rider; 12, Manhattan; 14, Seton Hall; 16, Cornell; 19, Rutgers; 20, Columbia at New York; 23, Dartmouth; 27, N.Y.U.; 29, Brown at Providence; 30, Harvard at Cambridge.

May 4, Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; 7, Yale; 10, Rutgers at New Brunswick; 13, Navy; 14, Fordham; 18, Temple; 20, Army at West Point; 21, Trenton State; 28, Lafayette at Easton.

June 4, Yale at New Haven; June 11, Yale.

THOMSEN IN A RUT

But He Hopes to Stay There. Not once in the last nine years since 1957 has Ferrie Thomsen failed to bring a Princeton lacrosse team lower than first place. There have been a couple of ties—last year with Dartmouth and the year before with the Indians and Harvard—but a share of the top spot or sole ownership has been the hallmark of Tiger lacrosse in the sport ever since 1957.

The competition is admittedly getting tougher as more and more players come into college with solid training in lacrosse and the one-time all-stars such as Penn, Brown, and Dartmouth meet the Big Three on even terms. The Tigers remain, however, the team to beat off the combination of a fairly steady flow of good material and Thomsen's tightrope climbing ability.

Back for a third year in the goal is Craven Flanders, whose combined talents as a netminder in hockey and lacrosse make him unique in Princeton athletic history. Drafted as a goalie for Baker Rink duty as a sophomore, although he had spent little time on skates prior to that time, Flanders is a good as the defenses in front of him. Given normal protection, he can be a stand-out in the position in both sports.

The usual suicide schedule, sending the Tigers at the outset against the four best teams in the nation, remains in effect as desirable training for the Ivy League race. It's not rare when Princeton defeats any one of the four, but the experience gained pays off in the weeks that follow.

Titles Evade Tigers

Princeton teams competed in four championships last weekend but could not produce an individual title-winner, in team standings, they finished no higher than fifth and as far back as last.

A second place in the 200-yard backstroke in the Eastern Swimming Championships at Annapolis was the Tigers' top accomplishment. They placed fifth in the team standings there, in wrestling and last in a field of nine in the Indoor Heptagonal Games at Indiana.

Navy at Annapolis; 16, Army; 22, Brown at Providence; 30, Harvard at Cambridge.

May 4, Pennsylvania; 7, Yale; 11, Rutgers at New Brunswick; 14, Dartmouth at Hanover; May 21, Cornell.

ALL-IVY GOES CANADIAN
One American Chooses
the extent to which Cornell and Brown have turned to Canada to dominate the Ivy Hockey League was underscored this week with the announcement of the all-Ivy line. Chosen by the coaches of the six member colleges. Five of the six players selected are Canadians, and only Cornell and Brown are represented.

Four are members of the league champions at Ithaca: forwards Doug Ferguson, the only unanimous choice, and Mike Doran; defenseman Harry Orr and goalie Dave McKibbin. All but McKibbin will be back next season.

Bruce Darling of Brown, likewise a Canadian, rounds out the all-Ivy line. The lone American is Bob Gaudreau, Brown defenseman who was named for the third straight year.

Also achieving All-Ivy rating for a third time was Charlie Stuart, Dartmouth captain and defenseman whose home is in Princeton. He and goalie Dave Ferguson of Brown led the balloting for the second team.

Shooting Flurs, a title of Princeton basket for 38. Both teams displayed plenty of desire, but Netville had too much of everything else. It used its superior arsenal to gain the Little Tigers down, and there wasn't much doubt about the outcome.

The majority of the Little Tigers all year, Hines finished with 29 points, 475 for the year. In the last four games he scored 97. For the team, it was its tenth setback in 25 games.

Seniors playing their last game for PHS were Hines, Mike Quade, Lyons, George Mikal, Jim Greene, Edric Hines, Lou Bledsoe, Bill Cusumano and Bruce Granger, Juniors, who will form next year's nucleus, are Wood, Richi Volz, Ken Nelson, and Joe Kulley.

DUNHAM IS CHAIRMAN
Of Tennis Team Committee
Princeton University's director of admission E. Alden Dunham has been chosen chairman of the newly-formed Princeton Community Tennis Committee.

Dunham is an active participant in tennis activities here. Last year, he won the men's singles title and was a finalist in the doubles tournament. He also helped organize the first tournament in Princeton sanctioned by the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

The new chairman explained that the main function of the committee will be to coordinate tennis activities in the area. He also hopes to initiate new programs, such as town-wide round robins, ladders for adults and regular league play for juniors.

Serving with Dunham as committee chairmen are Martin Katz and Ken Miller, Men's program; Mrs. Fred Dummel and Mrs. Marshall Stig, Ladies' program; Mrs. Peter Gross and Mrs. Leon Lipidus, Junior program; Miss Virginia Minor, area liaison; Mrs. Douglas Corlette, school liaison; Mrs. Henry Broad and Mrs. A. C. Reeves Hicks, housing; Mrs. William Janney and Mrs. Jack McCarthy transportation; Mrs. Howard Fox, trophies and awards; Mrs. Henry Frank and Mrs. Warren Lane, registration; Mrs. James Fitzpatrick and Mrs. John O'Donoghue, telephone; Mrs. Ben Strubbecker and Mrs. Akira Asano, secretarial; Miss Debbie Enders, Miss Katie Kennedy, Miss Anne Hackenberg and Miss Anne Brenell, Junior League Corps.

E. Alden Dunham

Tennis enthusiasts who wish to volunteer their assistance should contact one of the committee chairmen or call Mrs. John O'Donoghue, 921-8320.

SPRING SPORTS LISTED
127 Events Set at PHS
Summers here may be long and quiet, but it is going to be a very busy spring for Princeton High School athletes. Athletic Director Joseph Jangoli has released the 1968 schedules listing 127 varsity and junior varsity events in five sports — track, baseball, tennis, lacrosse and golf.

The track team, which had the best season of all at PHS last year, an 11-1 dual meet record, will open a 20-meet schedule April 5 at home against Steiner. The season will run through June 4, the date of the annual state meet at Rutgers Stadium. Gene Groninger will be head coach again, assisted by Dick Wood and Tom Murray.

The Little Tiger baseball team coached by Harry Zoll, will take to the field for the first time on April 1, when its opening game opponent of recent years, Cathedral, will come to town. The team will have 20 contests in which to try to better last spring's disappointing 5-13 record. Donald Blankenbush and Michael Ravine are Zoll's assistants.

Seventeen matches are scheduled for the tennis team. The first home engagement with Pennsylvania on April 6. Bill Himes is the coach.

One of the school's newer sports lacrosse will get under way April 2 at home against Maplewood. Coach Bob Arbogast and his squad will begin their third year representing PHS. Thirteen games are on the schedule.

The lone team that will not open its season at home is the golf squad, coached by Dan Medice. Lakeville will be the first opponent on April 14; the home opener will come five days later against Pennsylvania.

AWARDS PRESENTED
At Hun School Banquet, Awards and athletic letters were presented at the Hun School's annual father and son winter sports banquet. Pat Summerall, former New York Giant professional football player and present sports director for CBS radio, presented the awards. He was the guest speaker.

The swimming award was presented to W. Bruce Armstrong, 21 Dods Lane, and the fencing award to Peter DeMauro, 630 Prospect Avenue. Trenton's Michael Miller received the basketball award, and Hudson L. Whitelight, of Westfield, the wrestling award.

Letter recipients from the Princeton area wrestling were: Anthony Halley, Rosedale Road; David A. Shenger, 774 Mercer Road; and Craig Strech, 135 Crestview Drive. Swimming: W. Bruce Armstrong; Wilson H. Kehoe, Lawrenceville Road; Brett W. Smith, 405 Kingston Road; and Wilson Holly, manager, 156 Noore Street.

Fencing: Peter DeMauro; Richard D. Smith, Belle Mead.

and Mar'c R. Soldavina, Skill-nato.

SPORTS DAY PLANNED
At Lawrenceville, Princeton's Y.M.C.A., with other branches of the Mercer County Federation, will hold the annual Sports-Affair for Youth this Saturday, March 16. The Lawrenceville School, where more than 1,000 boys from Mercer County will compete in various events.

D. H. Ollars of the Princeton Y.M.C.A. has been named general chairman of activity. Charles Hurlbut will act as chairman for the Princeton Y.M.C.A. Ollars' committee is now completing plans for the affair.

There will be several basketball tournaments as well as football shooting contests for grade school boys. The high school basketball tournament will include 10 teams. This tournament will begin this Saturday and be concluded next week.

Other events include track, swimming and wrestling competition. Younger boys of 8 or 9 will be able to participate with a father and son program of athletic contests and games.

GIRLS' SOFTBALL SET
Seven teams will play the Princeton Research Girls Softball League and two new entries will be in action this spring. Kay Allen, secretary, has announced. Others interested in joining should telephone her at RCA Laboratories, 452-2700, ext. 2172.

Returning from last year's group will be American Cyanamid, 1965 playoff champion; FTS regular season champion; McGraw-Hill, Opinion Research and RCA. New entries to date are the Tigerties and Western Electric.

LITTLE LEAGUE READY
Tryouts Announced. Registration for boys 8 to 12 who have not previously played in the Hill-Mont Little League will be held this Thursday from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m., and Saturday from 10 to 12 noon. Those interested should go to the Hillborough Fire Co. building on Route 26.
Tryouts for the International League for boys 8 to 12 will be held Saturday, March 20, from 9:30 to 11 in the field behind the Hillborough Elementary School. Boys 10 to 12, who were in the International League last year, will try out for the National League on the same field that day from 12 to 1:30. Senior League boys 12 to 15 will take place there from 2 to 3:30.

Robert Esposito will serve as league president during 1966. Other officers are Robert Geer, vice-president; Robert Hubbard, secretary; Stanley Dornochwal, treasurer; and Wilson Taylor, player agent. Those interested in serving as managers and coaches should call Esposito at 352-3222.

BOWLING NOTES
Wood Hits Record. Tom Wood, letter winner in the three major sports of football, basketball and baseball at Princeton High School, has proven that he is equally adept on the bowling lanes. Last week, in the Blue Angels 11-17 high school league, the 6-4 junior attained a league high series of 577 on games of 220-165.

D. H. Ollars

Craig Donaldson rolled a 577 in the team standings. Wilderits are on top with 14 wins, followed by Triple C with 12 wins and Hunters and Tigers, each with 10.

Cluridge Liquor gained ground in the Business Women's League, moving up to a second-place tie with McKensie Realty. Each has 20 wins, four behind the league leader, Nassau. Conover, Young Ages is in third place (16 wins) while four teams are tied with 14 wins apiece.

Individual standouts included Helen Tamari who cracked the 200 barrier with a fine 202. Loraine Harney checked in with a 190 and Jane Rauch a 170, both efforts 64 pins over their averages. In between, Marilyn Silvester fashioned a 187, Emma Lehoune a 180 and Loretta Sculerati a 176-172. The latter also converted the 5-7-10 split.

Top single games in the Three-man Classic League were Phil West's 234, Eric Weisenberger's 222 and Frank Maddalon's 220. Bill Flock rolled a 218, Dick Fowler a 214 and Bill Dumble, Pres Aeschbacher and Bud Fowler all had 205.

There was no change among the three teams — Deckers Dairy (55-4), Johnson Electric (48) and Turney Motors (44-1).

Per behind in fourth place is Pep Boys at 35½.
Ivy Inn, tied last week with Rowley's for first place in the B League, has it all to itself with 38 wins. Rowley's is now two wins back, four more than third-place Nassau Del which has 28 wins.
Individually, the most consistent bowler continues to be Joe Baldino. Joe worked the pins over for a 221-188-211 — 620 series, which, good as it was, wasn't up to his performance of recent weeks. Nick Sculerati rolled a 202-225 in his first two games but then dropped to a 180 for a 207 series. Claude Pinelli had a 210 and Bill Bathie a 213.

Mercer No. 3 widened its lead in the Tri-County Firemen's League to three wins over runner up Princeton No. 1, and seven wins over Hook and Ladder "1" in third place. Bob Richardson claimed scoring honors among the firsters with a 202-236-174 — 612 series. Other high single game scores: Caddy Canhill, 223; Elmer Perantoni and John Fitzpatrick, both 206; and Brier Rittenhouse, 203. Jack Maple rolled a 201 and George Luck a pair of 189's.

The level of scores was down somewhat in the Nassau League where Val Ransallo's 220 headed the list. Big Ireland had 215-192. Al Tota, 207; Ernie Hunt, 203 and Ed Nyström and Otto Olsen, 202. Cifelli Electric profited the most in the standings, moving up from six games back to two. It is tied for second place with Brophy's and Deckers Dairy, all three having 30 wins. Grover Lumber remains on top, two wins ahead with 36.

ST. PAUL'S IN PLAYOFF

Saturday in Trenton. Winner

of its division in the Trenton

CYO grammar school league

with a 17-1 mark. St. Paul's

School will meet the only team to beat it Saturday, in the opening round of the divisional playoffs. At that time, Holy Cross and St. Paul's will clash

at the CYO gym on South

Broad Street, Trenton.

St. Paul's (23-3 overall) ended its league play Sunday with an easy 45-12 win over St. Francis.

The outcome was a foregone conclusion when St. Paul's grabbed a 16-0 first period lead and widened it to 30-3 at the half. The team's mainstay all season, Mike Maquire, led St. Paul's with 18 points. Jim Leeper was next with 7.

Earlier in the week, St.

Paul's grabbed a 33-21

victory over an eighth grade

quintet from Princeton Day

School. Second and third margins of 18-3 and 22-4 were deceptive. Manure made 19 points,

one more than Bobby Sweeney. Marked his high for the season.

RARE ITEMS SHOWN

In New Exhibits, New displays at Princeton University and Princeton Theological Seminary offer a chance to see a Sicilian coin more than

2,000 years old and a collection of rare books almost 500 years old.

A coin minted about 215 B.C.

has recently been acquired by the University's Art Museum.

It was minted in Morgantina,

Sicily, a famous "lost city"

which was re-discovered by Princeton archaeologist Erik

Sjovog in 1920.

The coin depicts the head of the goddess. Greek wearing a wreath of barley. The reverse side is stamped with the embroidure of Nike, the goddess of victory, drawn by a chariot

drawn by four galloping horses.

Prof. Sjovog notes, "There are so few of these coins in existence that we must consider the issue as having been a small one. We are very lucky to have it." Princeton acquired the coin from a noted Swiss collector of Greek coins.

Princeton Theological Seminary

has put on exhibit in its

Speed Library a group of books connected with John

Hus, the Bohemian reformer

who was burned at a heretic in 1415. Two of the books are valued at more than $5,000

each.

The display includes a manuscript copy of Wycliffe's translation of the New Testament,

and a copy of Hus' "Gesta

Hereticorum" which was published

before 1500. Several books contain depictions of Hus' death

at the stake.

Many of the volumes are

loan from William Scudder

of 133 Library Place, a trustee of the seminary. The display is scheduled to run through mid-March.

CAMPING TRIP PLANNED

For Girls. The Princeton

YWCA is sponsoring a weekend camping trip for girls in grades five through eight at

Camp Bernie, Washington,

N. J., April 1, 2 and 3. Activities

will include hiking,

games, campfires, a stunt

program, and horseback riding

will be available at an additional charge.

The girls will stay in heated cabins which will eat in the camp dining room. They must provide their own sleeping bags and towels. The bus will leave the YWCA Friday, April 1

and return the following Sunday.

The trip will be directed by

Mrs. Charlotte Christiansen

and Mrs. Janet Humes of the YWCA staff. Those wanting to register or to obtain information

should call the YWCA,

ad should register at the YWCA by March 25.

Obituaries

Col. James F. Barney, who lived for many years on Westcott Road, died February 25, in Cuernavaca, Mexico. An Army career officer who was retired for disability four years before World War I began, he returned to active duty in 1914 and later became the only lieutenant colonel to receive the Distinguished Service Medal in World War I.

Born in Dayton, O., April 1, 1875, he served with the Virginia Volunteers before completing a year of duty as a lieutenant in an Army Engineer Corps during the Spanish-American War. He continued his military career for another decade, was retired for disability in 1910 and reactivated on August 12, 1914. During World War I, he saw action with the British at Ypres, along the Marne and in the Meuse Argonne. It was on a basis of his record there that he received the Distinguished Service Medal.

Col. Barney commanded various field artillery regiments in the war, directed an area of the Civilian Conservation Corps from 1923 to 1925 and was retired for age on April 30 of that year. With Princeton from 1923 to 1925, he served as chairman of the ration board during World War II. In 1944, he was appointed by Gov. Edge to organize and administer the National Academy, a post he held for five years.

Col. Barney married Eva Douglas Wise and they observed their 62nd anniversary before her death. Thereafter, he moved to Steelcoom, Wash., where he married Maj. Phyllis W. Adams, Army Nurse Corps (Ret.). She and a son by his first marriage, Col. James P. Barney Jr., survive.

A funeral with full military honors was held Friday at Arlington Cemetery. Cremation followed, with the ashes interred in the family vault.

Mrs. Louise W. Jones, 72, of a Sismouth Lane, South, died on March 15. She was the wife of DeWitt C. Jones Jr. Born in Worcester, Mass., Mrs. Jones moved to Princeton from Englewood in 1918. She was educated in Manhattan, Geneva, and at Miss Porter's school, Farmington. During World War I, she was a lieutenant in the Women's Volunteer Reserve the British Army auxiliary. She was twice wounded in Zepelin raids and received the Distinguished Service Medal of the WVR.

Mrs. Jones served as Deputy Girl Scout Commissioner in Englewood, and was a member of the board of Social Service Federation, becoming its first woman president. She was assistant chief air raid warden for Englewood and was active in the home service of the American Red Cross.

In Princeton she was a member of the Unitarian Church and was active for some years in the Family Service Association and Planned Parenthood Association.

Also surviving are a son, DeWitt C. Jones III of Fairmount, Mass.; a daughter, Mrs. Herbert L. Willett III of New Shrewsbury, N. J., and three grandsons.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Mrs. Nellie H. Warren, 80, of 99 Jefferson Road, died on March 12. She was the widow of Henry Warren.

A native of Princeton, Mrs. Warren was a former Real estate broker and had been associated with the Walter B. Howe agency. She was a member of First Presbyterian Church for 64 years.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Donald D. Carroll of Princeton; a son, Stryker Warren, of Mill Valley, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. George C. Clarke of Princeton; two brothers Walter, of Princeton and Robert Clayton of Brandon, Vt., and five grandchildren.

The service was held in the Niles Chapel of First Presbyterian Church. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery under direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

Mrs. Mae H. Vandewater, 77, died on March 11. She was the widow of Lloyd Vandewater. A Princeton native, Mrs. Vandewater was a member of the auxiliary of American Legion Post 76 Hightstown Council 46, Sons and Daughters of Liberty and the Shepherds of Bethlehem.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Nini of Wynnewood, Pa.; two sisters, Mrs. Michael McCloskey and Mrs. Robert Meiklejohn of Princeton; two grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

A private service was held at the Mather Funeral Home, the Rev. George Boardman of St. Michael's Episcopal Church, Trenton, officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Hubert S. Drake, 76, of 309 Ridgewood Road, died on March 12.

Surviving are a brother, Ernest F. Drake of Princeton, and a sister Mrs. Louis K. Johnson of Northfield, N. J.

The service was held at the Mather Funeral Home, the Rev. F. Hugh Liffliton of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment was in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. Mary Lopisto, 84, formerly of 2601 Main Street, Lawrenceville died on March 8 in Miami, Fla., where she lived for the past 10 years. She was a member of the Maroon League of Princeton.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Betty Passanelli of Princeton; a sister, Mrs. Orlando Pe-trone of Lawrenceville, a brother, Albert A. Miller of New York, four grandchildren.

Halvor Svensen, 81, died on March 10 after a brief illness. The widower of Mrs. Theodora P. Svensen, he was born in the parish cemetery under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Born in Noreston, Arneled, Norway, Mr. Svensen was a member of Carpenters and Deck Builders Union, Local 1458, New York City.

Also surviving are a sister, Miss Margit Svensen of Griggstown, a brother, Johannes Svensen of Norway, and two grandchildren.

The service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home, the Rev. Robert Jones of Griggstown Reformed Church officiating. Interment was in Green Wood Cemetery, Brooklyn.

Samuel Payne, 81, of 237 Washington Road, died on March 12 in Princeton Hospital. He was the husband of Edith A. Payne.

Prior to his retirement 13 years ago, Mr. Payne was painting supervisor at Princeton University for 40 years. He was a member of I.O.O.F. No. 108 of Princeton University.

Also surviving are a son, Victor W. E. Payne; three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home, the Rev. Walter P. Carvin of Princeton Baptist Church, Penna Neck, officiating. Interment was at the convenience of the family.

Mrs. Marguerite C. McC. Poop, 56, of 23 Dunne Drive, Hamilton Square, died on March 13 in Princeton Hospital after a brief illness. She was the sister of Mrs. Clark E. Trailler of Penna Neck.

A few words about Lafayette House
New. Tasteful. Exclusive.
Immaculate. Luxurious.
Subdued. Expensive.

There's a sense of ease and spaciousness both inside and out. A stately doorman bids you welcome as you enter the elegant 18th Century style lobby. Commercialism has no place here... only quiet and beauty. Service by an efficient maintenance staff courteously tends to your needs. Prepare your meals in an all-electric kitchen... walk on rich-grained oak parquet floors... enjoy the comfort of heat and air-conditioning individually controlled. You also enjoy 2 high-speed elevators, decorator-designed ceramic tile baths, garage and outside parking, laundry room and individual storage. Convenient neighborhood shopping just one block away.
Public transportation is at your door.

carpenters and builders who followed him in the 19th Century can be seen throughout the area. On Washington Street in Becker Hill, we can offer one such example. Center hall flanked by square living and dining rooms. Sunny kitchen (with adjoining laundry and lavatory) opens to broad brick terrace, as do a comfortable study and all-purpose room which were later additions to the rear. Four bedrooms and two tiled baths upstairs. Random pine floors.
Good condition for a house of this kind. Princeton Schools. $26,000

CHOOSE YOUR OWN BUILDER: we have five choice Township building sites with no strings attached. A rare thing in Princeton. Close-in as well as country locations. East and West. Three of them are two acres apiece. All are wooded. All have sewer and water from $15,500 to $28,500

LIKE LIVING IN A SLEEK, MODERN APARTMENT: but without the sacrifice of terrace or garden and with all the convenience of a Western Section Princeton location. Secluded behind graceful fences and tall hedges, this architect-designed one story is offered for the first time. Foyer, large, french windowed living room
with marble fireplace, dining area
well equipped kitchen. Two bedrooms and bath. Glass walled study with second bath. $47,500

PEERING OVER THE KITCHEN
SINK, WE SAW THE PRINCETON CREW SKIM BY: with a view like
the kids who fight to do the dishes! In fact the whole family will discover that life under this handsome roof seems altogether different
- somehow more exciting. Every one of seven rooms and two baths shares the same dramatic, lofty view of Lake Carnegie and its pretes-
s. We promise you won't be disappointed. $74,500

AFTER A LONG RUN - NOW AT POPULAR PRICES! Once offered for nearly $90,000 (close to the Princeton Township price evaluation) this sprawling 6 bedroom, 3½ bath, 7-
year-old has been reduced for quick sale to $87,500. It has much to recommend it, from 2 wooded Western Section acres, to a fully equipped kitchen to a superb heated and filtered pool. If you're looking for a buy - stop here!

A COUNTRY HOUSE BY HUNT AND AUGUSTINE: charmingly simple,
beautifully situated. 5 bedrooms, 3 baths. Balconies, fireplaces. Living room, family room plus study 15 minutes from Iowa. $42,500
